LIFE: Satisfying Your Curiosity

Your curiosity driven desire to travel, to read a classic author, to update your knowledge of the latest scientific trickery, to refresh your recall of important past events or to explore your environment, but cannot find the time needed to go there – then the LIFE July program will be your salvation. Zoom presentations by knowledgeable people will magically satisfy your curiosity.

Examples of such presentations this July are:

Travel – Easter Island, Hawaii’s volcanos and the Apostle islands stories

History – British Royal quirks, Hemingway

Social issues – Segregation in Mississippi schools, in the homes and plantations

Current Methodology – Gene editing with CRISPR and Architecture of Target Field

Skill test – how to identify that bird in the field

Remember to renew your LIFE Membership. See you in class!

Teacher Feature...

As an architectural historian with the Mississippi Department of Archives and History, Jennifer Baughn has surveyed over 800 historic Mississippi schools. In addition to publishing several scholarly articles about school architecture and segregation, she also authored the National Historic Landmark nomination for the Medgar and Myrlie Evers House in Jackson. Her book, with co-author Michael Fazio, “Buildings of Mississippi,” was published in 2021. Join us for “Separate but Equal? African American Schools in Mississippi, 1920-1960.”

Jennifer’s class is on Zoom on July 7th!
