Foster, Refresh, and Surprise Yourself with LIFE!

November has two special holidays, the mid-term elections and the weather usually closes in so home-bound activities are to be preferred – such as LIFE zoom classes. The presenters of this eclectic spread of class topics are from all over the country. The broad range of their backgrounds includes active univer- sity professors in political, history, law, art and literature, authors, two retirees, National Park Rangers, Religious professionals, photographers, crime investiga- tors, military experts, a toy designer, a shipwreck investigator and two museum docents. In addition several groups also follow the Great Book reviews as well. Topical subjects include the Voting Registration Act, Hope in a Divided America, Corporate Corruption, Federalism, and the Voting Rights Act. Holiday related subjects include Legends and Folklore of Winter, World War 2, Thanksgiving tra- dition in Boston, The Marine Corps National War Mem- orial Monument and Sisterhood in Vietnam. International issues, include The British Caribbean, Japan as a US ally, Eichmann before Jerusalem and the Governor from Hegg-The Norwegian Crop. Places of interest include Ex- ploring Lincoln in Washington, Broadway in Rochester, Historical Churches in Minneapolis, Plymouth Rock and Eisenhower's home in Gettysburg. Two In-Person Bus Trips to theaters. This myriad of topics will foster curiosi- ty, refresh your dim memories or surprise you with the opening of new appreciation of your community and its history.

TEACHER FEATURE...Robert Wittman, FBI Art Crime Team

Robert Wittman joined the FBI as a Special Agent in 1988. As a result of specialized training in art, an- tiques, jewelry and gem identification, he served as the FBI's investigative expert involving cultural prop- erty crime. During his 20 year FBI career he recov- ered more than $300 million worth of stolen art and cultural property which resulted in numerous prose- cutions and convictions. Class moved to Nov. 28.
