Imagine if tomorrow you walked into you workplace and found your employees speaking four different languages...and relating in four different subcultures. Though the shift hasn't been that abrupt, it is true that for the first time in our history, there are now four generations in the workplace and five in the marketplace! During this session, participants will:

- Develop a working knowledge of the distinctive characteristics, communication styles and differing values of each of the five generations interactive in contemporary culture
- Self-assess personal comfort and relational effectiveness with each of the four generations in today's workplace
- Group assess generational dynamics/characteristics within the organization
